Credit Women Honor High Point Banker With Yearly Award

Marlene Hedrick was named the International Credit Woman of the Year at the organization's annual convention held in Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Hedrick is the first Credit Women International member from the state of North Carolina to achieve the honor.

A banking officer at Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., Mrs. Hedrick has been active in CWI for 10 years on the local, state, district and international levels.

She is currently serving as first vice president of the local organization and has served in every office of the club. Concerned with young people's understanding of credit, she has been involved in teaching credit education classes in the local high schools and at Guilford Technical Community College.

Mrs. Hedrick was named local Credit Woman of the Year last July for her work in the organization. She has chaired several committees, including state president's project, auditing and education.

On the state level, Mrs. Hedrick was named state Credit Woman of the Year in September. She has attended various seminars and conferences and has traveled throughout the state visiting CWI clubs.

In April, she received the district Credit Woman of the Year award. Mrs. Hedrick has attended district meetings in Atlanta and Charlotte and seminars on credit education.

She was certified as a consumer credit executive at the CWI conference in Washington, D.C., last year and has successfully completed the CWI manual.
