Pat Evans receives International Credit Professional of the Year Award

(SAN ANTONIO, TX) — Pat Evans, first vice president at SACU, was named the International Credit Professional of the Year in a ceremony at the Credit Professionals International (CPI) Conference held in Bentonville, Arkansas. Presented annually, this prestigious award is given to an individual for outstanding achievement and service to CPI.

A member of CPI since 2003, Evans also was elected to serve as 2nd vice president for the international organization for the coming year. She has served as the president, vice president and parliamentarian of CPI District 8. At the local level, Evans has held the position of president, vice president, parliamentarian and treasurer.

Evans has worked at SACU, one of San Antonio's largest credit unions, for 25 years. Currently she is starting up the first mortgage compliance department. She spent much of her career at SACU in lending, managing direct, indirect and mortgage loan processing. She also assisted in the management of the collection department and ran the SACU Credit Card Center for many years. She has been an integral part of many conversion teams in rolling out new products or services, such as the new phone system, and record retention policies.
